IBIS Italian team Mission Support

- IBIS is supported with an ASI/INAF agreement starting from August 2016 up to July 2019 (A. Bazzano)

This support is mainly for non permanent positions, Clean Room maintenance and PI support for his duties/travels

- 9 FTE from INAF, all of them are on permanent contracts working on calibration, cross calibration, instrument health monitoring and operation, IBAS and science (GPS, AGN, Galactic Sources, GW etc)
- 2 more FTE working 60% on INTEGRAL/XMM data
- 1 Contract @IAPS for real time data flow and informatics support waiting for the new setup from ESOC

- 1 AdR @ IASP, starting from March 1st, shared at 50% with AHEAD Project mainly on PiCsIt calibration and data exploitation
- 1 fellowship, 1 year since May 2016 working on X-ray follow up of INTEGRAL AGNs
- 2 AdR are under going, possibly starting on May 1st, (1 @ IASFBO on X-ray follow up of INTEGRAL source and 1 @IAPS on Radio coverage of INTEGRAL sources)
- 0.5 Fellowship on Nustar-INTEGRAL Cross Calibration (expires on Sept 2017)

INAF will contribute to the 2017 INTEGRAL Workshop

Mikhail G. Revnivtsev Prize

It is our intention to propose a memorial award devoted to a young scientist for her/his significant contribution to the promotion of science in the framework of the INTEGRAL Mission. This research has to show an excellent achievement in the High Energy Astrophysics field.

The competition is open to scientists working in worldwide organizations.

Specific relevance will be attributed to results that have obtained a diffuse and large application either because innovative or for their impact and citations.

The research have to be performed in the period 2016-2017 and published by August 2017.
The deadline for application is August 30th this year.

Application should be sent to a email TBD

The prize will cover all the expenses to participate to the next INTEGRAL Conference in 2018.

IBIS-ROMA update

- On February 16 have finally accessed TLM data flow from MOC

Now we have to un-pack TLM in the proper format and to test real-time data flow and analysis

- OSA 11 has been finally installed by J. Rodi and M. Fiocchi. First test on Crab to check if works properly ongoing

We will report soon.
